WELCOME

Welcome to the 2024 Vintage Classics catalogue. This year we are excited to be presenting a newly redesigned red spine, launching in July. Our much-loved red spine list, which first launched 17 years ago, is the backbone of our publishing and home to more than a thousand classic titles – some of the most important, inspiring and enduring books ever written. We're launching the new look with twenty titles in bold, beautiful and unexpected cover designs. We believe there is a classic here for everyone and hope that these new editions will sit on readers' shelves for a lifetime.

Also in 2024, we are delighted to welcome Roberto Bolaño to our list, as well as celebrating Toni Morrison, Yukio Mishima, Rosemary Tonks and Christopher Isherwood with new publishing. In March we are reissuing Caliban Shrieks by Jack Hilton, a working-class masterpiece of British literature that was recently rediscovered in Salford's Working Class Movement Library. Later in the year we bring you The Big Book of Cyberpunk, an expansive and definitive collection of fiction's boldest and most prescient genre. And this autumn we will be publishing a unique work of nature writing, Birds as Individuals, an utterly charming and fascinating book about the ordinary little birds found in any garden.

We hope you enjoy discovering the huge range of our books and series in this catalogue and if you have any questions don't hesitate to be in touch.

THE RED SPINE REDESIGNED

Launching with twenty timeless classics in stunning new covers in July 2024.

The newly designed red spine celebrates a much-loved list and marks a commitment to doing three key things: creating beautiful editions of outstanding works, breathing new life into old books for modern readers, and publishing to reflect the world today. Launching with twenty books: ten great works already established as classics will be joined by ten titles published as classics for the first time.

INTRODUCING ROBERT BOLAÑO TO VINTAGE CLASSICS

‘Roberto Bolaño is one of the most influential and important writers of the past 50 years, and in the two decades since his death we have seen a dramatic reckoning with his immense talents. His books are irrepressibly electrifying – wild encounters with a writer of staggering vision and voracious imagination – and they will endure as some of the major landmarks of 20th-century literature.’

INTRODUCING TONI MORRISON TO VINTAGE CLASSICS

There is perhaps no other writer that so electrified American literature of the twentieth century than Toni Morrison. Morrison first blazed onto the literary landscape over fifty years ago, with her debut novel The Bluest Eye. Throughout her career, she produced novels that were not only immensely beautiful but deeply wise. Now, five years on from her passing, Toni Morrison's most-treasured novels haunt us still; they promise to stay with us forever.
