From mammoths, to dinosaurs, to the origins of life itself . . .

You are standing on prehistoric plains watching herds of dinosaurs fighting to survive. You will see reefs made of glass, monkeys fighting for survival on an accidental raft, waterfalls a mile high falling into cavernous depths . . .

This extraordinary book will take readers backwards in time, to explore worlds you might only have dreamt of, but that actually existed.

Palaeontology expert Thomas Halliday will immerse you in the worlds of the past, explaining how plants and trees and creatures big and small shared these Otherlands, and the great extinctions which nearly ended life on earth altogether.

Welcome to a journey like no other.

- A dramatic and immersive journey into the prehistoric past for children. The original book, for adults, had an incredible reaction from readers and critics, and has sold in seventeen territories (and counting), with 95,000 copies sold globally, across all formats.
- The book will be illustrated in full-colour and will show incredible landscapes and creatures, from woolly mammoths on snowy planes, to dinosaurs roaming one huge super-continent, to the very first animals, confined to the water, starting to swim and hunt.

WHY YOUR PARENTS ARE HUNG-UP ON YOUR PHONE

AND WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT

DEAN BURNETT

ILLUSTRATED BY KATIE ABEY

THE BOOK ABOUT PHONES THAT EVERY TEEN SHOULD READ!

PUBLISHING SUCCES – Dean Burnett's first book for children was a huge success, selling over 23k copies through TCM, 5k internationally and in 9 languages. This second book builds on the themes and self-help guidance from Book 1.

MARKET APPETITE – From A Better Day by Alex George to You Are Awesome to My Hidden Chimp, frontlist and backlist sales for kids self-help is not going away.

ONE SENTENCE PITCH – The Book You Wish Your Parents Had Read meets You Got This, this book cleverly spins the traditional parenting guide on its head. With expert and engaging guidance, it will help kids understand their phones, why their parents are so strange about them, and what they can do to make things better.

AN AUTHOR WHO KNOWS THEIR STUFF – Dean Burnett is a neuroscientist, and the international bestselling author of four books for adults. In this book he once again brings his gift for unpacking science in a funny accessible way to younger readers..

I'll bet you and your parents argue about phones.
They probably say things like:

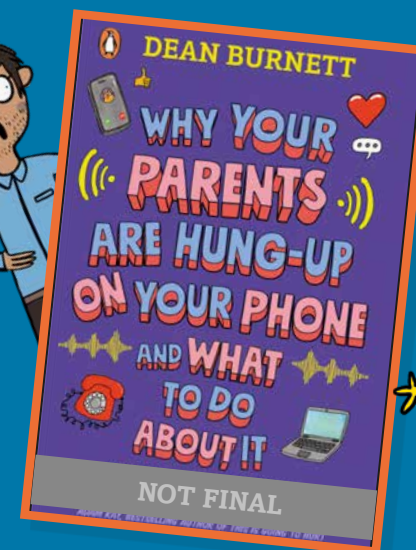

'Can you just put that phone down for one minute?!'
'You'll get square eyes looking at that thing!'
'I don't know who you're talking to all day!'

Maybe you want one, but your parents don't agree?
Or maybe you do have a phone, but your parents think you use it too much?

Either way, the result is: arguments.
Between you and your parents. About phones.

That's why brain scientist and bestselling author Dean Burnett has written this book. He'll show you why your parents are sometimes wrong about phones (and why, annoyingly, they can be a bit right), how you can both understand them a bit better and how you can stop arguing about them.

Because screens can be a good thing. And a bad thing.
But they're definitely not worth getting hung up about . . .

Dr Dean Burnett is a PhD Neuroscientist, experienced tutor and lecturer, regular blogger/contributor for the Guardian and other mainstream publications, and now international bestselling author. He has written four books for adults, including The Idiot Brain, and WHY YOUR PARENTS ARE DRIVING YOU UP THE WALL, for children.

We all have a body. They don't always function the same as other people's. And they certainly don't all look the same. But one thing is certain - every body deserves respect. This is an essential guide to embracing and respecting all bodies, for readers aged 9+.

Sometimes social media can make us feel like we're not good enough if we don't have a 'perfect' body. But the truth is, everyone feels bad about their bodies sometimes. Even celebrities with millions of followers worry about their bodies.

Author and campaigner Molly Forbes is here to show you that you - and ONLY you - get to decide how you feel about your body. And if we want to change the conversation around body image, we need to advocate for every single body - including those that look or function differently from our own.

It's time to stop criticising the way we look, and celebrate all our glorious differences!
